Legislative Director –

- A new policy has been released and it's pretty interesting
    - It is a statement on nurses providing non-scientific and misleading information about Covid.
    - It is important to remember information not grounded by science can lead to harm.
    - It also says that nurses are accountable for the information they provide to the public and any nurse disseminating incorrect info about Covid may be disciplined by the board.
  - Another email went out about NSNA's virtual mid year conference which occurred on November 11th-13th, however, many of the events were recorded and are available starting November 22nd through January 21st.
    - Need to follow up on the price, but if you are interested, please contact me.
